

whāne ye cūpanye of peple was leste: he stredde into a boot & cam ī to ye coostis of magadan / C. xviij And farisees & saducees tēptynge camē mȳz to hym: & p̄ciēdē hym for to sthewe to hem. a tokene fro he uene / & he answērite: & seide to hē whȳne ye euentyd is maid. & seȳ en: it shal be cleer / for ye heuene is rodd / & ye moorne. to day tem pest / for heuene sthȳney heuȳly or sorowful / ȳfore ye han knowe to de me myslyly ye face of heuene: but ye mowen not wite ye tokenes of tȳmes / ye yuel generaciōn & auou tressē sekȳ a tokene / and a toke ne shal not be zoinē to it: nobut ye tokene of jonas ye profete / & whȳne he hadde forlake hem: he wō te aȳey / and whȳne hȳle discipulis camē ouer ye see: yei forzate for to take loones / which seide to hem biholde ye & be war: of ye soun-dou of farisees & saducees / & yei pouz ten amōz hem: & leiden / for we han not take loones. forlope ih̄c wityge: seide to hem / what yēke ye among zou of lytil seip: for ye han not loones: & it vnderstōden not ye. neȳ han mynde of fyue loones into fyue poulend of mē: & how many coſtyns ye token / tren ly neȳ of seuene loones itō foure poulend of mē: & how many leepis ye tooken / whȳ vnderstōde ye not: for / seide not to zou of bzeed: be ye war of ye soun-douȳ of farise es & saducees / yāne yei vnderstō den. ȳ he seide not to be war of ye soun-douȳ of loones: but of yete thyng of farisees & saducees / lope ȳ ih̄c cam into ye parties of ceta